

BIRDS LIVE HERE

If you don't want to be greeted with beaks, feathers, and wings,
Don't come inside because birds live here.

If you don't think you can handle
loud noises and screams,
Don't come inside because birds live here.

If you don't like the feel of birdie
claws on your arm,
Don't come inside because birds live here.

If you don't want to step over these scattered 'round toys,
Don't come inside because birds live here.

If you don't want to have poop on your hands or your clothes,
Don't come inside because birds live here.

If you think a home should sweetly smell of perfume,
Don't come inside because birds live here.

But if you don't mind all this,
you'll be instantly loved when you come inside,
because birds live here.
